

Take 356 Chest X-Rays Here

Of the 3,017 chest X-Rays taken at the District Health Department between June 13 and 30, 356 were taken in Grayling.

Of the films taken in Grayling, 10 showed abnormal chests. 6 of these were advised to have chest X-Rays on larger film. 4 were advised to have re-rays six months and three were advised to consult their family physician for further chest studies. Dr. E. Merritt, district health director, revealed.

All people having abnormal chests were advised immediately. People having chest films have received information that they take it for granted that their chest film showed their chest as normal, Dr. Merritt explained.

Easy credit and installment buying are proving to be pitfalls into which welfare relief is one of the principal causes of financial trouble which bring people onto Michigan relief rolls.

Howard DeSpelder, welfare director for Montcalm County, gave some interesting bit of information recently to newspaper editors of Montcalm County at Lakeview. He illustrates the many complications of modern living whereby sales promotion of retailers prompt people to go into debt. Since installment payments on these heavy debts leave nothing for living expenses, the families then apply for relief at the expense of the taxpayers.

The Montcalm welfare director named merchants for the unusual situation, and he appealed to retailers not to sell people things they could not pay for. He said that credit and installment buying privileges would result in less welfare cost, according to the Montcalm welfare director.

The cost of relief in this county in 1941 was $12,371. Eight years later (1949) welfare costs rose to $33,322. Since the year 1941 was one of general prosperity, city and farm residence alike good, times, the question naturally arises as to why welfare costs have mounted substantially more than 400 percent in the eight-year interim.

The rising cost of welfare in Michigan prompted an investigation by a committee of the Michigan state legislature in 1949. Colin I. Smith, Republican of Big Rapids, was chairman of the special senate committee.

The committee recommended that the entire welfare system could be drastically revised and that restrictions should be placed in county welfare departments in the interest of efficiency and economy.

In his call for the 1950 Special Session Governor G. Mennen Williams recommended that the Legislature impose penalties on welfare chiselers. This recommendation was also made by the special committee, and one of the 1950 legislative enactments calls for severe penalties on any welfare official who aids and abets a welfare chiseler. This act imposes on the recipient of welfare the responsibility to keep the welfare official informed if there is any change in his family income. Therefore a family could continue to receive welfare aid after the recipient obtained employment and the practical need for aid had ceased.

Four other bills were adopted by the legislature although Attorney General Stephen J. Roth held that the bills were not germane to the governor's Special Session call. These bills would require approval by the State Administrative Board before the Social Welfare Commission could pay more than 50 percent of any county's welfare cost. The measure also prohibited county welfare boards from granting welfare until after an investigation had been made of the applicant's employment, marital and general economic status.

The state's total welfare program involved $100,000,000 in the fiscal year just ended. The Social Welfare Commission asked for $14 million for the new fiscal year (starting July 1, 1950).

W. J. Maxey, state social welfare director, reports that "considerably more than half" of all welfare costs relate to illness or unemployment of the applicant.

During World War II industry hired workers who were under 70 years old. Also, many who are involved in aid to dependent children cases were hired by industry during the war and also were the first to be laid off when the labor market became competitive.

Maxey hopes that the Federal Old Age Insurance system now being liberalized by Congress, and the growing pension plans of industry will combine to reduce Michigan's $100 million a year welfare costs.

Game Division Proposes Opening Parts Of Hanson Game Refuge

The Game Division of the Michigan Conservation Department entered a proposal at the Conservation Commission meeting at Houghton Lake last week that part of the Hanson Game Refuge, just west of Grayling, be opened to deer hunters this fall because the land can no longer safely carry the number of deer congregated there.

The game divisions proposal regarding Hanson refuge is that deer hunting be allowed on all state and privately-owned lands within the long established refuge except on those lands covered by the original Hanson deed to the State, which specified the land be kept as a perpetual game preserve and forest reserve.

Lying within the refuge are 13,800 from the Hanson gift, 2,900 acres of state land not obtained from the Hanson family and 1,200 acres of private lands owned by other persons. For several years the area has had more deer than it could safely feed winters.

Several years ago the state's game division gave thought to opening the non-Hanson parts of the refuge but was stumped by the posting problem and still is. To survey and "brush out" the boundaries would require much time and to "post out" the non-Hanson lands would, the game division estimates, require 38 miles of posting.

The Hanson heirs recently have declared themselves not willing at this time to have any change made in the original gift specifications.

Funkh of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Funkh, 503 Michigan Ave., Grayling, has enrolled at the Milwaukee School of Engineering. He is a former student of the Grayling High School.

State Air Guard Train July 22

Michigan's jet-fighter equipped air national guard seeking peak efficiency will train in secret during its two-week summer encampment.

The state's air defenders, according to Lt. Col. Donald W. Armstrong will start to work July 22 at the Detroit Wayne major airport at Romulus, at Selfridge Field, and at Grayling. They will train against the background of the Korean war.

Already, one unit of the guard, the 180th Aviation Co. is training at Selfridge Field. It was flown there Saturday by an airlift of guard transports.

Security restrictions, Lt. Col. Armstrong states, will keep the air guard bases closed to the public. In the past, the training sessions generally have been open.

The bulk of the air guardsmen, Lt. Col. Armstrong said, will train at Romulus. It alone is equipped to handle the two F-84 Thunderjet squadrons of the 127th Fighter Group. Long runways are needed. Headquarters units and the 227th Air Service Group also will train at the field, just outside Detroit.

A squadron of F-51 Mustangs, from Battle Creek, will train at Grayling, and a radar unit and an aviation engineer Co. will drill at Selfridge.

Both air guard jet squadrons were converted to the high-speed fighters just this year. The 171st Fighter Squadron, directed by Major Ralph Welch of Detroit, made the change from F-51 fighters in January.

The 107th squadron, which had been flying B-26 invader light bombers, was converted only several days ago. It is commanded by Lt. Col. George Ward Kemp, Jr. of Detroit.

In the past, most of the summer training activities have been centered at the Grayling base. The air guard has assisted ground troops of the 44th Infantry Division in their maneuvers.

Kelly Speaks To Eight County Rally

Speaking before a large crowd at an eight-county rally at West Branch last Friday night, former Governor Harry F. Kelly, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, warned of two red dangers which he said the people of Michigan are facing. One of these affects the security and safety of the people and the other affects their pocketbooks. "There is danger in red ink and danger in Red philosophies," former Governor Kelly stated.

He was illustrating two basic principles of Republicanism which will be important planks in the party platform this year. The first is elimination of deficit spending, emphasizing war on government waste and the giving of a dollar's worth of service for every tax dollar collected. Also, the constant war on Communism.

Kelly said he would continue the fight he has been carrying on for many years to keep off the Michigan ballot the candidates of any party which advocates the overthrow of established government by force and violence.

Former Governor Kelly said he planned to visit every district in the state between the present time and primary day, September 12th.

City Erecting New Steel Light Poles

The City of Grayling is erecting two new steel light poles at the corner of Michigan and Cedar streets from which to suspend the traffic signal light.

One pole has been erected on the corner by Ron's Hardware while the other will be placed on the opposite corner near the B-C-D Store. In two heavy windstorms this spring, the traffic light came dangerously near crashing to the pavement and the wooden light poles from which the light was suspended moved quite some distance in the ground. For the sake of the public safety, it was decided to place steel poles set in concrete in order to forestall any accident that might occur during a heavy blow.

George Burke Named Mayor At Monday Council Meeting

Succeeds Retiring A. L. Roberts

George Burke, veteran Grayling councilman and mayor of Grayling for a number of terms was re-elected to the mayor's post by the Grayling City Council in a Monday night session to replace retiring A. L. Roberts.

Roberts, who will remain as a councilman, retired as mayor after accepting the post of County Treasurer from a County committee who named him to succeed Col. Roy Sindlinger who resigned as County Treasurer because of ill health.

The Mayor of Grayling according to the City Charter must be one of the two city members on the Crawford County Board of Supervisors. It is against the State Law for a member of the Board of Supervisors to hold a County elective office at the Court House. This necessitated Roberts resigning from the Board of Supervisors in their June session and to leave the Mayor's post in the first meeting of July.

George Smiggins, local hotel operator appeared before the Council Monday evening to discuss the City's new traffic regulation in the downtown area of prohibiting parking in the center of Michigan Avenue. Parking in the street of Grayling's wide main center has long been a practice and the new "no parking" ordinance has brought about a lot of controversy.

The Council will hold a special meeting on Monday evening, July 17 to talk over this problem, it was decided. They are asking each downtown block to select a spokesman for the block to appear at the meeting, hoping that with a small group of businessmen a workable plan which will be fair to business and at the same time take care of a traffic problem and parking problem can be reached. The three blocks on Michigan Avenue from the railroad right of way to Spruce Street and a block on Cedar Street or US-27, one each way from Michigan Avenue will be included at the conference. The Council is asking each side of the street in each block to select a spokesman, making a total of ten from the five downtown blocks.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Floyd A. Hines, Superintendent of Schools at Connersville, Indiana, and President of Timberlands, Inc., was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held Monday evening at the Lone Pine Inn.

Mr. Hines was introduced by Club Secretary Russell Allen who was in charge of the program.

Mr. Hines spent the school year of 1948-49 with the American Military Government in Germany aiding in setting up again the broken down school system.

Mr. Hines, his wife and three children spent the year in Bremen, Germany and following the school year traveled extensively in all of the countries of western Europe.

The Military Government's plan in readjusting the German school system to an American plan was the hope that through a new generation raised in this type of a school system that peace would come, the speaker said in telling of his many experiences with the German school children and teachers.

He said that the Marshall Plan although it must have an end some day was very good and was working wonders throughout demolished western Europe. He carried the theme of the older German people who wonder how a country like theirs, over a 1,200 years old, could come to a pass as to be helped by a young nation less than 200 years of age.

"Freedom is America's security," Mr. Hines said, "this is the same thing that all of Europe has been seeking with-out attempting to travel the right road."

In Michigan, farming is a Number 1 activity especially during this time of the year. And to ease that tired feeling after a hard day in the fields "The American Way" is to enjoy a glass of cold, refreshing, Michigan brewed beer.

For beer is the kind of beverage Americans like. It belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs... Enjoy It

A Grave Situation

The American Communists, who have gone underground with a vengeance, are attempting to weaken the nation through propaganda, and are training spies whose job is to bore inside the Government and to steal our top military secrets—particularly those concerning atomic weapons, jet plans, and plans for the national defense in event of war. That, in essence, is what FBI's J. Edgar Hoover recently told a Senate committee.

Mr. Hoover is under no illusions as to Communist purposes. He said, "The Communist party is not a bona fide political party. It is a highly organized, militant, and disciplined conspiratorial group following the dictates of international Communism. The party is a group dedicated to the overthrow of our Government."

Just how large is this party whose loyalty belongs to a foreign power? According to Mr. Hoover, there are 54,174 actual Communist Party members within the U. S., at the present time, most of whom are in the concentrated centers of population. New York State alone contains about half of them. It is likely that for every party member, there are 10 sympathizers who are ready, willing and able to do the party's work. So, he said, "There is a potential fifth column of 540,000 people dedicated to this philosophy."

Since the first trial and conviction of the 11 members of the party's Executive Board, major organizational changes have been effected. Mr. Hoover continued. The trend has been toward decentralization. In order to eliminate the dangers that arise when large numbers congregate, the number of Communist Party Clubs has been almost tripled. No membership cards were issued last year, and the maintenance of membership records has been discontinued. A courier system has been established to protect confidential communications. Secret printing plants have been set up. Leaders are being selected for the underground. A thorough and elaborate system has been devised for making certain that each member is loyal to Communism.

This one Telescopes your Time

Of course you recognize it.

Who doesn't know that those four Ventiports, that graceful sweep of fender-chrome, mark ROADMASTER—best of all the Buicks, unquestioned "big buy" of the fine-car field?

But have you tried it?

Have you matched this sweet-tepping bonny against the tall hills, and the call of the straight-away?

Ever toiled it across town—and seen how Dynaflow's quick surge and smooth take-off slip you through traffic with minimum of foot-motion and maximum of timesaving?

Ever known the good feel of a light and easy wheel, swinging almost at a finger's touch—the soul-satisfying lift in a big 152-hp Fireball engine just waiting for the release your toe-pressure gives it?

Ever sampled that famous Buick ride—steady, level, unperturbed, soft with the special gentleness of coil springs on all four wheels, sweetly restful in both front and rear seats?

There's no reason, really, to wait longer for such satisfying experience.

There's a Buick dealer near you. He delights in showing off ROADMASTER. He'll arrange—unless all his demonstration cars have been snatched away from him by eager buyers—to put you behind a ROADMASTER wheel.

Why not see him now—to find out what's finest in today's fine cars, and how little it takes to buy one?

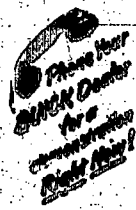

Only BUICK has
and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-QUAD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from oil-coil springing, Safety-Ride tires, low-pressure tires, ride-steady-ing torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Frank Bond Named Chairman Of County Chapter Polio Foundation

The annual meeting of the Crawford County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was held last Friday evening and Frank L. Bond, Superintendent of the Grayling Schools was elected as chairman of the group.

Mrs. Lester O. Welch was named vice-chairman, Miss Wanda Mikrut secretary, and Mrs. Carol Pawloski, treasurer. Willard Cornell, who last year was drive chairman for the March of Dimes fund campaign, was unanimously named to again head the fund drive in January, 1951.

George Burke who has headed the chapter for over three years and handled three March of Dimes campaigns was named as an ex-officio member of the executive committee which is formed of the four officers, medial adviser Dr. B. E. Henig, drive chairman Cornell, County Nurse Mrs. Maurice Gorman and Robert Strong.

In attendance at the meeting was Blake Ferris, state representative for the funds who paid a tribute for the fine work done by Mr. Burke during his three years as chairman and to Drive Chairman Cornell. Ferris said that the March of Dimes campaign in Crawford County the first of this year was among the best in the country on the per capita raised.

A discussion was held on the aspects of fund raising, patient care, education procedure and the possibility of forming a women's division to keep a year around polio program operating.

It was pointed out that the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula had reported only two cases of polio yet this season while the remainder of the state has already reported 83 cases.

Grass Hopper Poison Bait Station To Open July 13th

Farmers in Crawford County who wish to control the grass hoppers will be able to get free bait this summer. The station will be located on the Stanley Hummell farm east of Frederic in Maple Forest Township. You will be able to get the saw dust poison bait or the material to use in a sprayer. The county has appropriated $100 to use for this purpose. If more money is needed, each township will have to decide if they wish to appropriate more money. Most Area Eating Places Now Approved

More than 7,000,000 Michigan vacationists this summer will eat in restaurants which they do not regularly patronize; many of them in restaurants which they have never seen before. Many other local citizens eat in restaurants all or part of the time. How to select a safe restaurant then becomes your problem.

It is so true as to be almost an axiom that a sparkling clean, brightly-lighted restaurant with clean, pleasant, alert and attentive help, will serve the safest and best food, but there are other things which will tell you whether a restaurant is a safe place to dine before you order your food.

When you pull up in front of the restaurant, notice these things: Is the building in good repair? Are the sidewalks, entrance and windows clean and uncluttered? Is the place well lighted? As an added precaution in food handling places in this area the Health Department has provided a window sticker for Approved Restaurants. This is for your protection.

When inside look for the health department "Approved" sign. If there is one, this indicates a safe source of food, pasteurized milk, and other precautions necessary to the safe handling of food and drink. It means proper handling methods, storage and serving of foods. It means that perishable foods are kept refrigerated. It means that dishes and utensils are properly washed and sanitized so that diseases will not be transferred from one customer to another.

Gaylord PCA Becomes Fully Farmer Owned

The Board of Directors of the Gaylord Products Credit Association, composed of Arnold W. Osterlander, Afton; Ed Hartung, LeVering; Albert A. Kassuba, Gaylord; Joseph Martineck, Charlevoix and Eheridan, Rhoades, Comins, voted on June 2, to retire the remaining $5,000 of government investment in the association on June 30th, thereby making the association fully farmer owned.

In accordance with the Farm Credit Act, in the fall of 1933 a small group of farmers met and organized the Gaylord P.C.A. to service the northern Michigan counties of Alpena, Afton, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmet, Montmorency, Oscoda, Otsego, and Presque Isle counties and electing a Board of Directors of 5 men from the area. A. J. Townsend was elected Secretary-Treasurer and is still serving in this capacity.

The Gaylord PCA was chartered on December 30, 1933 with a government investment of $78,000. When these PCA's were organized it was with the understanding that the government investment would be returned as they progressed until, in time, they would become entirely farmer owned. "As a result of the continued support of its members in the use of the association and their investment in additional stock," says Arnold W. Osterlander of Afton, president, "the Gaylord PCA has been able to accomplish this goal. We will celebrate this achievement of complete farmer ownership at our next Annual Stockholders meeting this fall."

Farmers Take Big Cut In 1949

Farmers in the dairy and potato area of northern Michigan felt a sizable cut in net earnings last year. This cut meant 58 per cent lower net incomes in 1949 than in 1948, according to your county agricultural agent and Everett M. Elwood, Michigan State College Farm Management Specialist.

This report is part of an annual study made by the Agricultural Economics Department of Michigan State College and the County Agricultural Agents in the Area. There were 54 farmers in the eleven Northern Michigan counties co-operating on this study in 1949.

Gross incomes dropped from $8,716 per farm in 1948 to $5,693 in 1949—a decline of 35 per cent. Farmers received less income from dairy products, hogs, cattle, poultry and eggs due mainly to lower prices.

While gross incomes decline 15 per cent, farm expenses increased 2 per cent. Total expenses—including all cash expenses, family labor (other than the operator, depreciation and 5 per cent interest on the investment—amounted to $4,716 in 1948 and $4,820 in 1949. Feed prices were a little lower in 1949 and a little less family labor was used. Machinery and improvement expenses continued to climb.

The squeeze between lower farm income and higher expenses resulted in 58 per cent lower net earnings for operators of the 54 farms. This was a drop from an average of $2,000 in 1948 to $873 in 1949. These farmers also received the value of products from the farm which were used in the home.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

There it Was—Right in The Middle!

Easy Roberts moved his lawn early last Saturday. Then he sat in the porch, and watched Handy Peterson cutting his grass.

The Roberts' property and the Peterson's border each other with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Easy notices Handy left about a four-foot strip removed along the boundary, he talks over and asks why.

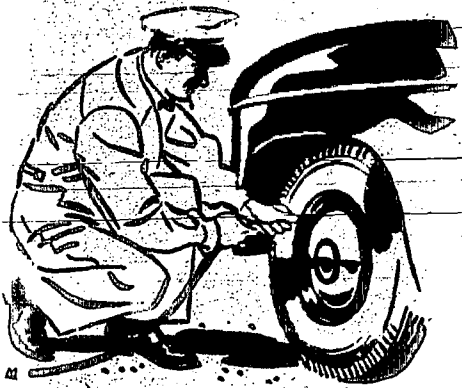

"That's your land," says Handy. "Mine ends here. See, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Easy didn't think so, so he went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of their "no man's land!"

Well, they both grin and take turns finishing the job and then retreat to Easy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little searching around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are—at which point the whole thing doesn't seem as important anyway.

Fish Parasites
Killed By Cooking

All parasites of fish are destroyed by cooking, Dr. Leonard N. Allison of the conservation department's institute for fisheries research advises anglers asking if it is safe to keep and eat fish with minor abnormalities.

Fewer game fish would be thrown away, Dr. Allison believes, if anglers realized that fungi and larvae found growing on some fish and embedded in their flesh do not make the fish inedible. Only a few such parasites can infect humans and even these are harmless when the fish is thoroughly cooked as high temperatures destroy them.

Most common parasites and diseases which occasionally show in the skin and flesh of fish are described by Dr. Allison as: Black spot, cysts which appear as black spots about pinhead size; yellow grub, a worm that embeds in the flesh, yellow in color, and may be nearly one-eighth of an inch long; gyro, a small parasite worm about one-fifteenth of an inch long that lives on the body, fins or gills and whose presence is shown by frayed fins and patches of fungus; catarrh, a disease which causes the fish to lose its appetite; fish lice, small white or yellow wormlike organisms usually less than an inch long that attach to gills, fins or body; fungus or water mold, a tuft of fine white threads which radiate about a third of an inch or more from the body; ulcer disease, ulcers or sores caused by bacteria action or injury; lymphocystis, a disease that produces groups of jelly-like tumors or warts on body and fins; lampreys, which attach themselves to body of fish and leave large, ulcerous wounds; leeches or blood-suckers, greenish or brownish color, one quarter of an inch to an inch long found in mouth or on gills, fins or body.

Internal parasites and disease causing anglers to question edibility of a fish but destroyed by thorough cooking are, according to Dr. Allison: Liver cysts, similar to blackspot; yellow grub, sometimes buried deep in muscle tissue; tape worm, flat, ribbon-like, whitish, sectional worms in the intestines; roundworms, found in digestive tract and sometimes in swim bladder, encysted in muscles or fat, or attached to lining of body cavity.
